The dinner to be given to Henry Irving in New York will cost $15 a plate.

Senator Spooner is the smallest man in congress, physically, but in brains he stands in the first rank.

The "war cloud" in Europe has a broad silver lining. The end has come and the Russian bear and the British lion lie down together.

The president, by the appoint of S. S. Cox to the Turkish mission, wants to demonstrate the fact that there can a "Sunset" in the east.

Roswell Miller, who has been acting general manager of the St. Paul road since the death of S. S. Merrill, has been elected general manager.

The nearest official lightning came to striking Carl Schurz, was to have his brother-in-law, Edmund Juessen, appointed consul general at Vienna.

The assembly has passed a bill obliging the owners of drawing-room, dining and sleeping cars to pay annual license fee of 4 per cent on their gross earnings in this state.

The North Chicago rolling mills will start up next Monday with a force of 1,800 men, whose pay-roll is $100,000 monthly. This is an indication that the times are brightening.

The caucus of republican senators in Washington, decided to resist removals from office which have a fixed tenure by law, except for cause, until the expiration of the terms for which the appointments were made.

When Heaven was measuring out its supply of modesty for this generation of humanity, it seems to have entirely overlooked the ex-confederates. They take everything that comes along in the shape of an office.

The new postal law doubling the weight of single-rate letters, decreasing the postage on newspapers sent from the office of publication, and providing for the immediate delivery of letters at all the larger postoffices, does not go into effect until the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1.

General Butler volunteers to say publicly that the democrats have a different president from what they expected, that they have found that they cannot rule him, and that he is bound to have his own way. He suspects that he will please the republicans better than he will the party that elected him.

The New York Sun (dem.) says of Postmaster Pearson's reappointment: "In our judgment the appointment will produce a considerable shock in the democratic party of New York; yet, perhaps, we are mistaken. Our democratic friends may console themselves with the reflection that while they have a republican for a postmaster, he will make as good as any republican could be expected to make."

A Chicago dispatch says that the Rev. Thomas Harrison, "the boy preacher," has been conducting, during the past six weeks, a revival service at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. F. B. Bristol. Wednesday night a jubilee was celebrated at the church for the 500 converts Bishop Charles Fowler and other church notables being present. It is said that over 2,000 converts have been admitted to the Methodist churches in Chicago since the first of January.

It will probably surprise a great many persons to hear that Mrs. Garfield, widow of the late president, is engaged to be married to Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Newcastle, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Garfield has a right to re-marry if she feels so inclined, but the announcement that the event will soon take place, while the great tragedy is so fresh in the minds of the people, will cause more less astonishment. A report from Cleveland denies the story of the proposed marriage, and Mrs. Garfield refuses to be interviewed on the subject.

The great opera festival hall in the exposition building in Chicago, is now so far completed as to illustrate the fact that it is a beautiful auditorium and as comfortable and excellent in its arrangements for seats as it is handsome. Mr. S. G. Pratt, the projector and director of the festival, has carefully tested the acoutic properties of the place and pronounces it as astonishingly perfect, the slightest sound being heard from the stage in every part of the house.

It is announced that Patti will sing three times the first week and probably the same number of times the second week of the festival. But with Nevada, the American prima donna, whose triumphs in Paris and all the cities in America where she has yet appeared, have been second only to Patti and Furch-Mann, the great dramatic soprano, besides the greatest living contralto, Scalchi, with such an array of great artists supported by Giannini, Cardinali, Nicolini DeAuna and a chorus of 300 fresh voices, with an orchestra of 100 musicians there will be no "off nights" during the festival.

A correspondent, who doesn't seem to read the papers closely, wants to know if Postmaster Pearson, of New York, is a "mugwump," and if he is not, why President Cleveland should appoint a republican to such an important office. Mr. Pearson was not a "mugwump" during the late election, but a stanch republican, and the joke, therefore, comes in on his appointment by a democratic administration. The Gazette has before said that Mr. Pearson is one of the best executive officers in New York, and his thorough training in the post-office was obtained while his father-in-law, Thomas L. James, held the position of postmaster previous to his appointment as postmaster general. The independents were especially desirous to have Mr. Pearson re-appointed, and virtually became the candidate of the independents. Without the independents Cleveland could not have been elected, and the little patronage he gives them by re-appointing Pearson is insignificant compared with the favors the president received from them. But there is another point which must not be over-looked. The democrats of New York city could not agree upon any fit man for the office. The president waited some time for them to harmonize, but when they wouldn't do it, and would not give him an opportunity to appoint a good democrat, he did just what he should do—allow Pearson to retain the office.

THE SOUTH IN THE SADDLE

President Cleveland is doing all he reasonably can to make himself solid with the south. Without the south he could not have been elected, and all the missions and consulates within his power to give, will be but a poor recompense for the one hundred and fifty-three electoral votes the south presented to the democratic nominee. But Cleveland is doing the best he can to fairly reciprocate the south's gracious favor, as will be seen from the following list of appointments made from the southern states:

Secretary of the interior—Lamar, of Mississippi.

Attorney-general—Garland, of Arkansas.

Minister to France—McLane, of Maryland.

Minister to Mexico—Jackson, of Georgia.

Minister to Brazil—J. Jarvis, of North Carolina.

Minister to Russia—Lawton, of Georgia.

Minister to Italy—Keily, of Virginia.

Minister to Peru—Bock, of Kentucky.

Minister to Japan—Hubbard, of Texas.

Consul general to Manchester,—Howell, of Georgia.

Consul general at Berlin—Paine of Maryland.

Assistant secretary of the interior—Muldrow of Mississippi.

Commissioner of internal revenue—Miller of West Virginia.

Indian commissioner—Atkins of Tennessee.

Assistant secretary of state—Porter of Tennessee.

United States railroad commissioner—General Joseph E. Johnston of Virginia.

Commissioner of agriculture—Coleman of Missouri.

Assistant postmaster general—Knott of Maryland.

In addition to all these, there have been more marshals, collectors, and so on, appointed in the south than there have been in the north. The president seems anxious that if the south shall not grow up in material prosperity, it shall at least grow up in offices.

THE NEW LICENSE LAW.

The state senate concurred, on Wednesday, in the assembly bill, providing for a minimum liquor license of $200. The vote stood 17 to 13 on the motion, "Shall the bill be ordered to a third reading?" and the following is the vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Comstock, Erwin, Gunty, Hoyt, Hulburt, James, Kidd, Maxwell, Minor, Nason, Parry, Ring, Stanley, Waddington, Warner, Weechselberg and Wiley.

Noes—Messrs. Blake, Carey, Conklin, Cottrill, Hudd, Jonas, Kennedy, Klotz, Luns, McDonald, Sherman, Wall and Ware.

Absent or not voting—Messrs Lord, Reed and Ringle.—

Mr. Ringle was paired with Mr. Lord, he being against the bill, while Mr. Lord was for it.

The bill provides for a minimum of $200 and a maximum of $500 in cities and villages of over 500 inhabitants, and a minimum of $100 and a maximum of $400 in communities of under 500 population.

The bill further provides that the electors of the several cities, villages and towns in this state, may hold special elections for the purpose of determining the amount to be paid in each city, village or town for license to sell liquors. And for that purpose it is made the duty of the clerk of every city, village or town, on a request being made to him in writing signed by at least twelve qualified voters of such city, village or town, and specifying the purpose for which such special election is to be held, give notice of a special election for that purpose in the manner provided for giving general elections; such special election shall be held on the third Tuesday of September, and no other question shall be submitted to the electors at the same time, and no such special election shall be held oftener than once in three years. The election shall be held at the place and conducted by the officers and the result canvassed in the same manner, as provided for general elections. At such special election in towns where the sum to be paid for license is fixed at $100, the electors may increase such sum to either $350 or $400, as they may determine; and in all cities, villages and towns wherein the sum to be paid for license is $200, the electors may increase it to $350 or $500 as they may determine.

The sum receiving the highest number of votes at such election shall be held to be the sum to be paid for such license to sell liquors within such city, village or town for the three years succeeding the first Tuesday in May next thereafter. If the highest amount to be voted for shall not receive a plurality of the votes cast, then the votes cast for such highest amount shall be considered as having been cast for the next lower amount, and shall be so counted. The license shall be paid annually in May as under the present system.

The new law is more favorable to druggists than the old one, as it fixes their licenses at $10.

While this is not a high liquor license, it is as high as could be obtained by the present legislature, and no doubt the law will give very general satisfaction. There are conflicting opinions as to what the license should be, and the compromise measure which has finally passed both houses, will be generally regarded as a happy issue out of the difficulty which the question brought forward.

THE ROUT OF BARRIOS.

HE MEETS THE ARMY OF SAN SALVADOR AND GETS WHIPPED.

Two Days' Desperate Fighting with Great Slaughter—Aspinwall Burned—"Uncle Sam" Refusing to Take a Hand—Indians at Work in Manitoba.

LIBERTAD, April 2.—Authentic advices regarding the first engagement between the forces of Guatemala and San Salvador the 30th of March, just received here, indicate that the result will decisively affect the arbitrary position assumed by Barrios. It seems that the Salvadorian commander had massed a force of about 11,000 men on the plains of Santa Anna for the protection of the frontier. His advantageous position was gained only by the utmost activity and determination, the troops evincing creditable spirit and endurance in forced marches up the difficult mountain roads from all parts of the republic.

About noon Sunday information was received from disaffected Guatemalans at Guaquinijilapa, a town about three miles from Santa Anna, on the Guatemalan side, of the approach of Barrios at the head of 15,000 men. The position of the main body of Salvadorians was protected, and strong skirmishing parties at once deployed in different directions to intercept the movements of the Guatemalans.

The first conflict occurred about sunset, when a party of Guatemalans that had forded the river Paz attacked a party of Salvadorians reconnoitering in the neighborhood. The fight was very fierce, lasting until nightfall, when the Guatemalans were forced back across the river. In recrossing the Paz, which runs down the mountain with a strong and rapid current, a large number of Barrios' men were drowned. Skirmishing was kept up throughout the night without particular advantage to either side.

Early Monday morning the Salvadorian commander, learning that Gen. Barrios, contrary to all the traditions of Central American warfare, was meditating an attack on El Coco, an important position on the San Salvador frontier, concentrated his forces in the neighborhood, the main body of his forces covering Chalchuapo and his flanks resting on El Coco and San Lorenzo. Barrios began the battle about 9 o'clock by opening fire on the Salvadorian position, thus initiating hostilities without a declaration of war and breaking his promise to the United States government, through Minister Hall, not to invade San Salvador.

As Barrios approached El Coco, keeping up a fusillade of musketry, the Salvadorians replied to his fire hotly. The firing on both sides was wild and ineffectual, save that it rendered the advance of the Guatemalans slow and difficult.

Hostilities were virtually suspended during the night, but at daylight the Guatemalans made a desperate rush in an attempt to carry the Salvadorian position by storm. Only the superior position of the Salvadorian forces saved them from annihilation by the almost overwhelming numbers of the Guatemalans. Towards the middle of the day firearms were to a great extent thrown aside, and a terrific hand-to-hand fight began, in which the troops on both sides did terrible execution with the sanguinary favorite weapon of the Indian—the machete.

After nearly ten hours' fighting, in which quarter was neither given nor taken, the Guatemalans were completely routed, leaving about 1,500 of their number on the field dead or wounded. They retreated across the frontier in great haste and disorder. Though greatly exhausted by the engagement, the Salvadorian troops were anxious to pursue the enemy across the border, but they were restrained from entering Guatemalan territory.

There is a general feeling here that Barrios' impulsive haste and rashness in staking all his fortunes on the cast of a single great engagement will hasten his downfall. It is thought, too, that the large element in Honduras opposed to Barrios will be encouraged by the victory of their Salvadorian friends and quickly extend their influence to the nullification of Barrios' alliance with President Bogran.

ASPINWALL IN ASHES.

The Revolutionists Set Fire to It—Protecting American Interests.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—The navy department received a telegram Wednesday from Commander Kane at Colon announcing that the revolutionists have destroyed Aspinwall by fire. The torch was applied to prevent the capture of the city by the government forces and the result is total ruin, except the Pacific Mail dock, railroad property on the north side of the island, and the canal property at Cristoph, Colon. The shipping escaped also. All of Commander Kane's forces were ashore protecting such property as was left. The Pacific Mail steamship "Colon" was also burned.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—Upon the receipt of the dispatch announcing the burning of Aspinwall by the revolutionists, Secretary Whitney called upon Secretary Bayard to define the treaty obligations of the United States in the premises. An informal cabinet conference was held Wednesday night for the consideration of the subject. Secretaries Bayard, Whitney and Manning, and Attorney General Garland were present. The conference lasted several hours. It was decided that while the government has no responsibility for internal broils at Panama, the old treaty with Grenada guarantees free and uninterrupted transit across the isthmus. Secretary Whitney, at the conclusion of the conference, telegraphed Commander Kane, commanding the Galena, and Consul Adamson, at Panama, for facts as to the condition of the railroad and steamship property, and inquiring whether transit is open. He also telegraphed orders to the commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, to gather the available marines at the navy yard with some gatling guns and men to handle them. If present advices are confirmed, men and guns will be shipped immediately. Secretary Whitney is advised that the Alliance and Swatara are on their way to Colon, the former from Key West and the latter from New Orleans.

Secretary Whitney also sent the following to J. B. Houston, president of the Pacific Mail company, of New York city:

The government proposes to have the transit from Panama to Colon open and uninterrupted in the shortest possible time. In order that your company may avail of the advantages of this action, a few days delay of your steamer to receive shipment of armed force will be necessary.

How many men can you take?

Mr. Whitney does not believe that the interference of the United States forces will be required, but says ample preparation has been made for the emergency.

PANAMA, April 2.—Communication with Colon is reopened. The force sent from here attacked Preston the afternoon of the 30th ult. and drove back a small outpost. The morning of the 31st the fight in the town of Colon commenced. Cannon were used, and the firing was heavy. While the fight was in progress a fire, the origin of which is not yet known, broke out. Preston, when he saw that defeat was inevitable, made his escape. Many of his men were killed or captured. The town by this time was in flames. Everything was swept away save a few Panama railroad buildings on the north beach. All the piers except the Pacific Mail company's were burned, and all the railroad company's books were lost. The canal company saved its books and $160,000 in specie. All the cars on the tracks were destroyed. The new town of Christopher Columbus escaped the flames.

ON THE WAR PATH IN EARNEST.

Indians in Manitoba Begin a General Massacre.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 2.—Late reports from officers of the government at Battleford indicate that a terrible and wholesale massacre in the unprotected settlement is going on and that there has been a general uprising among tribes heretofore thought to be friendly. Residents of Battleford have learned that an attack will be made on the barracks there. They have food enough to hold out if the troops arrive. The situation is critical. Hundreds of Indians have come in who pretend to be friendly, but who will probably join the rebel Indians in an attack on the barracks. The settlers have one small cannon and 200 stand of arms with plenty of ammunition. A telegraphic line constructor has been murdered, and settlers are being killed wherever found. Col. Herchman, with seventy mounted police, will probably arrive at Battleford Thursday night.

A prominent government official states that important information has been received regarding the gathering of a brotherhood near a small town in New York.

WINNIPEG, April 2.—Latest advices from Battleford state that all the Indians have suddenly left that town after pillaging and burning most of the houses, but where they have gone cannot be learned. It is feared that they have gone to Edmonton to plunder that place and induce the Indians on the reserves near there to join them in their raid. Another supposition is that they have started for Carlton, eighty miles distant, where Riel with the half-breed rebels and 800 Indians of Big Bear's and Beardy's band are encamped. The troops of Gen. Middleton start Thursday morning northward by way of Touchwood hills to meet the rebels. An uprising is reported to have occurred among the Indians at Riding mountain, but the rumor is unconfirmed.

TORONTO, Ont., April 2.—Northwest advices state that it will require 7,000 additional troops to squelch the rebellion. Arrangements are being made in all parts of eastern Canada to send large numbers of volunteers to the front. Some fear a Fenian raid on eastern Canada while the troops are absent. Rumors prevail that suspicious persons from Buffalo, supposed to be Fenians, have appeared at Hamilton. Riel is said to have a quantity of dynamite. The Globe says that when all the troops necessary have gone to the northwest there will be enough left to take care of any Fenian squad that may escape the vigilance of the American authorities, and that any Fenian braggarts may take notice that in the present temper of the Canadian people it will go hard with any person caught perpetrating any outrage. Another contingent of troops has left for the front under the command of Col. Williams.

FIGHTING HAND TO HAND

THE KING OF TERRORS AND THE OLD COMMANDER

Again Struggling for the Mastery—A Day of Agony Brings the End Very Near.

Another Early Morning Alarm Announces the Beginning of the Final Effort for Life or Death—All Hope Given Up and the Summons Awaited.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Following on the latest bulletin from the bedside of the dying soldier:

NEW YORK, April 2, 1 a. m.—The condition of Gen. Grant at this hour is about the same as at midnight—one of painful uncertainty. He has been walking and resting at intervals, and is now apparently asleep on his lounge. The physicians are on hand, and all the members of the family are watching at his side. The day and night has been a wearing one on the patient. He is bearing up under his load with a fortitude that is heroic.

3:30 a. m.—No bulletin has yet been issued. The general's room is now dark and he is evidently sleeping. Drs. Douglas and Shrady are still at the house.

4:20 a. m.—All is quiet in and around Grant's house. No appearance of anything unusual. Neither of the doctors has left the house. Windows of the general's room dark.

CHICAGO, April 3.—The Times has a special from New York giving the condition of Gen. Grant Wednesday as follows:

NEW YORK, April 1.—This has been a distressing day for the Grant household. They were summoned from their beds at an early hour to witness the general's dying moments. He was terribly prostrated and too weak to speak, and could only show by his eyes and the feeble pressure of his hand that he sympathized with their trouble. He reclined in his easy-chair with his pale, wan face thrown back on the cushion. His pulse was very feeble, and it was plain that he was hovering on the border ground. Food was administered in small doses, and it seemed to have a good effect. He began to rally slightly, and the color came back to his face. Rev. J. P. Newman and Drs. Shrady and Douglas remained constantly in the room with him. The family went about softly, and kept near at hand, so as to be ready in any emergency. They snatched a hasty breakfast, as they were anxious to keep up their strength, although none of them had any appetite. At 7:30 this bulletin was sent out:

Gen. Grant continues to improve, but is still quite weak. J. H. DOUGLAS,
GEORGE J. SHRADY.

The curtains of the house were pulled down, and there was no indication that there was anything unusual going on inside. Ex-Senator Jerome B. Chaffee came from the house at 8:50 He looked very much cast down, and when questioned said: "The general is growing weaker. His throat is thickening, and his heart trouble continues. He may die at any moment."

Gen. Grant knew very well that his condition was almost hopeless, but, although he was now strong enough to speak, he said very little. Soon after 9 o'clock he fell asleep, and every one withdrew from the room except Dr. Douglas.

The quiet street now took on a busier look. Men going to business stopped and looked at the house, and people went out of their way to go past it. The postman came along with a great bundle of letters, and dropped nearly every one of them in the letter box on Gen. Grant's door. There was no hope of his ever reading any of them. A few visitors called, and they were told at the door that the sufferer was very low. They went away with sad faces. Among them were E. A. Frost, one of the famous 306 at Chicago; Gen. Thayer, who commanded a division under Grant in Tennessee, and Gen. John C. Robinson, who fought with Grant in the Mexican war. He is an ex-lieutenant governor of New York, and has only one leg. He left his carriage and mounted the steps with difficulty by the aid of his crutch. He could not see the general, and remained only a minute or two. It was known that there was to be a consultation of the physicians and surgeons in the case, and they now began to arrive. Dr. Fordyce Barker's carriage came first at 1:45; Dr. Shrady followed soon after, at 2 o'clock, and Dr. Henry B. Sands a few moments later. They found the general asleep, and waited in the back room until he awoke. The examination was not very long. While it was in progress, Mr. Chaffee came out. At 2:30 he said that the general had eaten a dinner of soup, toast, and soft boiled eggs. He had recovered his strength in some measure, and had been able to walk across the room. He was then reclining in his chair, and was very low. The consultation was over at 2:45, and Drs. Barker and Sands went away at once. Gen. Grant said to Dr. Barker: "When will you be here again?"

"I shall not come until to-morrow, but I'll leave Dr. Douglas and Dr. Shrady with you."

"Well," replied Gen. Grant, smiling faintly, "they are good enough for me."

Dr. Barker said as he stepped into his carriage: "The general passed a good night until 4 o'clock. He then had an attack that lasted for half an hour. He rallied from it, and has been as well as could be expected since, but he is not in as good condition as yesterday. I think he will live through the night unless something very unexpected happens. He seems to be very comfortable, talks cheerfully, and is in no pain."

Col. Fred Grant came from the house at 3 o'clock and walked down Madison avenue. His face was haggard, and he was plainly suffering under great dejection. He said: "The general is very, very weak."

Senator Leland Stanford, of California, and Rev. Dr. Newman left the Victoria hotel at 8 o'clock and were driven to Gen. Grant's house. The general was awake, and they were allowed to see him. At 9:15 o'clock Senator Stanford went away, and as he was about to get into his carriage he was surrounded by nearly 100 persons who had been watching the house from the opposite side of the street.

The crowd which was clustered at the bottom of the steps of Gen. Grant's house made many think that the crisis had arrived, and a number of ladies and gentlemen, who had been promenading on Fifth avenue, hurried toward it and asked if Gen. Grant was dead.

Senator Stanford said that the general had walked across the floor during the evening, but that his pulse was irregular, and he did not seem over-strong. He might last twenty-four hours and might possibly live longer. He had left him reclining on two chairs in his bed-room. He was in great pain. The doctors were hopeful that he might live through the night.

Half an hour before Senator Stanford left Mr. Cyrus W. Field was driven up to the door. He went inside, but did not remain long. He came out in company with U. S. Grant, Jr., who entered the carriage with him. As the carriage door was slammed. Mr. Field said in answer to an inquiry: "The general may live three days." When Col. Dent went away this afternoon he left orders to be sent for if any change occurred. At 9 o'clock last evening he returned in answer to a summons.

The street in front of Gen. Grant's house is thronged with people this evening. In the crowd are many ladies. A quartet of policemen patrol the street, but can not keep the throng of people moving. It is not a noisy crowd. The people converse only in low whispers. Many have stood for hours silently and intently watching the windows of Gen. Grant's room. A bright light burned in the library, and a dimmed one in the bed-room. Senator Chaffee arrived shortly before 6 o'clock, and went to the sick-room. Ex-Postmaster General James and ex-Senator Windom drove up to the house a few minutes after 8 o'clock. They were met at the door by Col. Grant, who said: "Gentlemen, I thank you for calling, but I must beg to be excused. My father is very bad." The callers went away without entering the house. "It reminds me of the sad days at Elberon," said Mr. James.

A special to The Tribune says:

Until the attack of the morning Mrs. Grant had borne up hopefully. The family and the physicians had taken pains to keep the truth from her, and her bouyant nature had not been disturbed by lack of faith in the ability of the physicians, acting with the general's great will, to battle and overcome the local disease. Even through the peril of Saturday night she did not despair, but Wednesday morning when Dr. Newman arrived at 5 o'clock and approaching the general grasped his hand and spoke of the future the full truth flashed upon her and overcame her.

"That scene was a most touching one," said one who was present. "It was the more pitiful from the self-command of the family, all of whom except Mr. Grant thought the end had surely come. The general was sitting up. Any other posture would have hastened the end. Yet as he sat the halo of death enwrapped him. He held out his hand to his pastor. Then in a voice of hope and comfort the clergyman said: 'Does the future look bright and pleasant?' The general pressed his friend's hand and looked trustingly into his eyes. There was an instant of silence, when the general said, in tones low but clear: 'Perfectly. I am impatient to go, with regret only at leaving my family.' The general's mind was perfectly clear and cheerful, as though the end, which seemed at hand, was indeed welcome to him. But the family could not endure the painful sight. Mrs. Grant hurried weeping from the room, the other ladies following, except Nellie, who went tearfully over to her father and kissed him. When day came with its attendant relief in warm, pure air and bright sunshine, and when, as time wore on, the general was less uneasy than during the violent symptoms, his mind seemed to turn to the contemplation of the future."

A VISIT FROM THE KAISER.

Bismarck Specially Honored by His Sovereign—The People's Gift.

BERLIN, April 2.—It is reported that two Russian generals have arrived here with a testimonial from the czar intended as a marked honor to Prince Bismarck. The celebration in honor of Bismarck's birthday were elaborate in all the large cities of Germany. The emperor and his son Crown Prince Frederick William, attended by all the resident princes the imperial family, called upon the chancellor at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and congratulated him. The kaiser was especially warm and earnest in his expressions of regard. During this imperial visit the emperor personally presented an oil copy of the great portrait of himself to Prince Bismarck as a personal memento. This gift was followed by another mark of the imperial favor. The emperor himself decorated Count Herbert Bismarck, son of the chancellor, with the order of the Red Eagle. The imperial visitors spent most of the remainder of the morning at the chancellor's residence. After their departure the federal councillors and ministers called and presented their congratulations.

The Bismarck birthday testimonial committee subsequently visited the chancellor and formally presented him with the title deeds of the great Schoenhauser estate. The entire afternoon was taken up by delegations which had come to present testimonials from all classes of the German people and from all parts of the empire.

VIENNA, April 2.—The authorities at Gratz rescinded their prohibition against the observance of Prince Bismarck's birthday, and the Germans there celebrated the day with great enthusiasm.

Defending the Ferry Ministry.

PARIS, April 1.—The organ of the Ferry ministry, in a special edition, asserts that the foreign office has received China's reply to the propositions made by M. Ferry before the defeat of Gen. Negrier and the fall of Lang-Son. The article declares that the reply indicates China's readiness to evacuate Tonquin upon the terms offered by France. Editorial comments are then made upon the injustice likely to be done M. Ferry, inasmuch as M. de Freycinet will, as premier of the new cabinet, at once accept, and hold China to the terms of this agreement, and peace will be concluded, M. de Freycinet getting credit for having brought about a result, which is in fact due to M. Ferry's successful diplomacy. This article is being industriously quoted, and circulated by the friends of the late minister.

Will Fight the Prohibition Law.

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 2.—The brewers of Kansas closed a two days' secret session in this city. The new prohibition law, they say, will be thoroughly tested in the courts. They have secured the services of the most eminent attorneys in the state. A test case will be started from Atchison as soon as the plans are matured. They suffer greatly from the provision that prevents them from using the common carriers to deliver their goods.

Decreased Earnings of the Erie.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The statement of the Erie Railway company, for the month of February, including 68 per cent. of the earnings, and the entire working expenses of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad, shows a decrease in net earnings of $2,394, as compared with February, 1884. The net decrease for the five months from Oct. 1, was $224,307.

Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

NORTH VERNON, Ind., April 2.—The boiler of a saw-mill belonging to David Hulz, eight miles north of this place, exploded Wednesday afternoon, killing Anthony Cleaker and seriously injuring three other men.

Budding Base Ball.

NEW YORK, April 2.—About 1,000 spectators witnessed the opening game of base ball at the Polo grounds Wednesday between the New York and the Jaspers, of Manhattan college. Although the game was very one-sided there was some good play on both sides. The score was as follows: New York 16, Jaspers 2.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—Brooklyn 3, Nationals 3—game called on account of darkness.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 2.—The following is the score of the base ball game played here Wednesday: Nashville 15, Cleveland 7.

NORFOLK, April 2.—Norfolk 4, Providence 5—game called on ninth inning on account of darkness.

The Rhode Island Election.

PROVIDENCE, April 2.—Wetmore, Republican, has been elected governor of Rhode Island by 2,962 majority. Rev. Mahlon Van Horn, colored, was elected to the legislature. This is the first instance of a colored man be elected to that body in this state.

Continuing to Advance Backward.

PARIS, April 2.—Gen. Briere de L'Isle telegraphs from Hanoi that after a fresh encounter with the enemy at Dong Hong, Monday evening, Gen. Herbinger continued his retreat in good order along the Kep and Dequam routes.

Nominated for Mayor of Toledo.

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 2.—The Republican city convention, Wednesday, nominated Horace S. Walbridge for mayor.

Russia's Answer to England.

LONDON, April 2.—The Pall Mall Gazette states that Russia's answer to England's proposals on the Afghan question amounts to a cordial acceptance of the proposals made by Earl Granville. Russia consents to accept as debatable territory the zone laid out as such by England. This leaves still to be discussed the Russian suggestion that it would be more practical if the zone of survey over-lapped the roughly defined debatable land, in order to allow for topographical and ethnographical conditions not expected. This suggested extension, as it would carry the zone south of the boundary run by M. Lessar, the Russian commissioner, may yet prove serious enough, The Gazette thinks, to cause further difficulty.

—Mrs. Wm. Bassenger has been stopping a few days with Mrs. Spangle.

—The family of W. W. Janes is enjoying a visit from Mr. Janes' mother and Miss Della Welton, of Whitewater.

—E. Hall has just received a carload of cedar posts which he intends to use in fence making on his marsh land.

—Mrs. Thos. Fort, who has been spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. House, has returned to her home in northern Michigan.

—Lima people have long been wishing for an arrangement to be made by which they could go to Janesville and return the same day by train, and we learn that one of our leading business men accomplished the great feat Saturday. If any one wants to try it, they can perhaps learn just how it was done by inquiring either at the depot or at Holbrook's office.

—When this beautiful world was called into existence and the mighty celestial spheres were formed and sent revolving in limitless space by the infinite author it was declared that "it is not good that man should be alone." Therefore woman was created to become a helpmate and companion, and ever since the primitive days of Eden the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Adam have obeyed the stern decree. In accordance with precept and example legal statutes made and provided, Vin Vaughn decided to marry, and hastened over the hill not far away, to the pleasant home of Miss Lizzie Messenger, and it is now our pleasant duty to note their marriage, the ceremony taking place on the 25th, at the residence of the groom's mother. A large and joyous company of friends rejoiced with the youthful couple in their happiness, and left many tangible expressions of their good will, in the shape of presents. The happy twain very sensibly dispensed with any wedding journey, and are nicely settled in housekeeping on E. Bullock's farm, where they will be glad to welcome their many friends.

Fulton.

—J. Boyd Jones, county superintendent of public schools, held teachers examination at Fulton school house Tuesday and Wednesday with a good attendance.

—There is a rumor to the effect that there is to be a division in two families in Catfish.

—Samuel L. White has bought Geo. Haycock's farm and Mr. Haycock buys the Wm. Fox place, consideration in each case $100 per acre.

—Pease and Pyre have finished assorting tobacco at their warehouse in this place.

—Marton Stebbins, whose house was burned a few weeks ago has the material on the ground for a new one and Kanouse and Bentley have the contract which is a sufficient guarantee that it will be pushed.

—Last Monday being the occasion of Mr. Orson Vaughn's birthday, his wife planned a successful surprise for him and he looked with wide open eyes at the 25 or 30 friends as they drove up to his door. It was a pleasant gathering, and all wished for a repetition of the same.

—Yesterday the Rev. A. S. Reid performed the ceremony that made Hans Christianson O'Kern and Miss Churchill one. We all smoke, Hans.

Indigestion's Martyrs.

Half the diseases of the human family spring from a disordered stomach, and may be prevented by invigorating and toning that abused and neglected organ with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Let it be borne in mind that the liver, the kidneys, the intestines, the muscles, the ligaments, the bones, the nerves, the integuments, are all renewed and nourished by the blood, and that the digestive organs are the grand alembic in which the materials of the vital fluid are prepared. When the stomach fails to provide healthful nourishment for its dependencies they necessarily suffer, and the ultimate result, if the evil is not arrested, will be chronic and probably fatal disease somewhere. It may be developed in the kidneys in the form of diabetis, in the liver as congestion, in the muscles as rheumatism, in the nerves as paralysis, in the integuments as scrofula. Remember, however, that each and all of these consequences of indigestion may be prevented by the timely and regular use of that sovereign antidote to dyspepsia, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

—School in the upper room closed March 20th. Whole number of pupils enrolled, 30; number in regular attendance, 28; those perfect in attendance are: Gertie Westby, Frank Boss, Arthur Boynton, Elmer Dean, and Nora Eddy, the latter only part of the term. Those absent but one day: Robbie Jackson, Frank Thomas and Asa Lone. Those absent two days and not more that four, are: Charley Boynton, Eddie Ransom, Ray Boynton, Edward Lone, Nettie Boynton, Ella Cheney, and Ralph Cheney; the latter only part of the term. Those very irregular in attendance—averaging from 2½ to 3½ days per week, are: Leila Goodrich, 2½; Harry Jones, 3; Birdie Stoller and Emma Brown, 3½. On account of sickness, Emma Winkley was also very irregular.

Those averaging but two or three days in a week accomplish but very little, besides making much confusion in their classes.

It would be much better to attend every day for only part of the term, than now and then all of the term.

Parents make a great mistake when they think that their children will accomplish as much by attending two or three days in a week as if they were present every day.

You say you wish to teach your children something more than they can get from books. I think that a bright idea, but in teaching them, by all means teach them regularity, not irregularity. You would pronounce that person a poor housekeeper who attended to her household duties but three days in a week, and as a poor business man that would attend to his business but two days, when to be done properly it requires seven days. You say that circumstances compel you to keep your children at home. I do not doubt it neither do I object. I consider it an insult for you to keep your child at home five days in the week and send them to school one, two or three days, as the case may be, then have the audacity to say your child attended school last term. In some cases I would say now and then when they had time or when it was convenient. Better say they visited, not attended, school. Hereafter I do not think it prudent to enroll any pupil that does not average four days per week while they are in attendance.

The truest test of a teacher's correctness, in regard to the manner of teaching is the result. In determining the extent to which a teacher is responsible for the poor scholarship in a child, it should be taken into consideration that a child is not plastic clay in the hands of a teacher; nor is it a sheet of blank paper to be written on at will. It is too often looked upon as such. The teachers can aid development and direct tendencies, but cannot create powers, and often fails to control them, especially if the parents are against him. The manner of teaching depends upon the nature of the pupil in hand. And for this reason one is often obliged to reverse his plans. Successful teaching requires first, a knowledge of the things to be taught; second, a knowledge of the nature of the child to be trained; and then a knowledge of the peculiarities of the child's parents. Very often, in discussing school matters, parents lead their children to understand that the teacher is in the wrong; that their playfellows are not fit companions for them; that they should not play with this one, nor sit with that one; that speaking pieces and writing on examinations is all foolishness. I say, that all such discussions should not be in hearing of your children. As parents, it is your duty when you send your child to school, to say to him, "Obey your teacher"; but do not say what he shall do nor what he shall not do. If you think your teacher an incapable person, speak with the board about it and not with your children. If you teach your children to be gentle, obedient and respectful, they come to school and act well their part, but if you teach the reverse, they act that as far as they dare, but the little fellows have better hearts and more sense than you often give them credit for, and instead of going beyond the limits they fall in line and march on with the rest. For this reason I never have the heart to inflict corporal punishment on a child when I know the punishment should fall on the parents.

To the pupils under my charge last winter I will say that I thank them all for the willingness they expressed in trying to comply with my wishes and plans, their kindness to me, and general conduct, and all have my best wishes and my wish is that you may think of me as I do of you.

A PRIVATE LETTER.

Probably no man is better known or more highly respected than Mr. Julian S. Carr, President of the Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Co., of Durham, N. C. In every tobacco store in the United States, and in many foreign countries, Blackwell's Durham Tobacco is sold, and it is a well-known fact that the sales of this Company largely exceed those of any other tobacco manufacturer. That such success has been obtained is due to the energy, integrity and ability of Mr. Carr, who has so successfully managed the affairs of the Company. Such a letter as the following, written by Mr. Carr to a personal friend whose only interest in the matter referred to was a desire to do a friendly act, is certainly worthy of careful reading.

Durham, N. C., Feb. 25, 1885.

My Dear "Mac":—I have delayed writing to you, with reference to the Athlophoros remedy, until I could hear from a friend of mine, a gentleman of high character, who used Athlophoros at my suggestion with very great benefit. He is a tobacco manufacturer of high standing. I have waited to hear from him in order that I might use his name officially. I am satisfied, however, that he must be at the New Orleans Exposition, and my letters have failed to reach him. So I will not delay answering your letter longer. You want to know whether Athlophoros is really as good as you thought when you so kindly sent me a couple bottles. I had a sister who was a victim of neuralgia and rheumatism. She suffered intensely, and her condition gave her family and friends much concern. Every known remedy was tried, but without effect. When the bottles you sent me came, I sent one to my sister and one to my sister-in-law. My sister was so encouraged from the use of this one bottle that I put her upon a thorough treatment of Athlophoros. I certainly owe you and Athlophoros a great debt of gratitude for the relief the remedy has given her. She has almost completely recovered from rheumatism, so much so that she has stopped the use of Athlophoros and considers herself well. My sister-in-law, to whom I gave the other bottle, was suffering fearfully with neuralgia, she had become unconscious from the pain—the Athlophoros relieved her entirely. I gave a bottle of Athlophoros to an intimate friend who suffered such intense pain in his head that he looked as if his eyes would start from their sockets, and by its use he has been greatly benefited, and tells me that he received such relief from it that he orders it by the box and keeps it at all times in his house—is never without it—can't afford to be, this is the gentleman to whom I wrote. I wanted to send with this his opinion in his own handwriting, but as I stated he must still be at New Orleans. A very worthy colored man, a house carpenter, Jim Whitted by name, lives in the house adjoining "my man of all work." One morning my man told me that Jim was suffering so intensely from rheumatism that the neighborhood was disturbed day and night by his cries of agony. Wishing to test Athlophoros before my own eyes on a genuine case of acute rheumatism, I wrote the Athlophoros Company stating Jim's condition, and offering, if they would send me the remedy, to see that it had a fair trial in his case. I confess, with all my confidence in Athlophoros, I doubted whether it could help Jim, but it was faithfully tried and I think the proudest man now in all this community is Jim Whitted. He claims to be entirely relieved of all his rheumatism and not only that, but he says the stiffness in his joints, which came with the rheumatism, has all been removed. Within thirty hours after he began to use Athlophoros, he felt like another person. These instances have all come under my personal knowledge. I am very slow to speak of or recommend any medicine, but when a remedy has the virtue and the merit that I believe Athlophoros has, I cannot hesitate to recommend it. I have given you facts—don't they answer your question fully? Yours truly, J. S. Carr.

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. Athlophoros Co., 113 Wall Street, New York.

—Miss Lizzie McNett, of Cary, Illinois, is in the city visiting relatives.

—Janesville Chapter No. 5, R. A. M., regular convocation this evening—Masonic hall.

—Shurtleff will furnish the supper for the St. Patrick's society dance on next Monday evening.

—Do not fail to see Arthur Ball, the great trick skater, at the rink, Saturday evening, April 4th.

—Mr. L. B. Cutting, of the fourth ward, who has been very sick for some weeks, is able to be down town.

—The masons have resumed brick laying on the new Jeffris block—west end of Milwaukee street bridge.

—There were two thousand one hundred and sixty-one books drawn from the public library during the month of March.

—The sale of reserved seats for "Her Atonement," will commence at Prentice & Evenson's drugstore to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

—The Concordia society will give one of their popular social dances at their hall, in Mitchell's block, on Easter Monday evening. A general invitation is extended.

—The democrats will hold their ward caucuses on to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, and their city convention on Saturday evening at the common council chamber.

—One of the fifth ward candidates on the prohibition ticket is all right in theory concerning the prohibition cause, but to believe his own words, he is on the other side in practice.

—Remember the dance at Guards' armory under the management of St. Patrick's Temperance society on Monday, evening April 6th. Anderson's full band of six pieces will furnish the music.

—At the Hat and Bonnet Carnival tonight, no one will be allowed to wear a mask, and all skaters will be expected to wear an oddity of some kind in the way of a hat or bonnet. Admission 15 cents.

—The prohibition mass convention held at the common council rooms last evening, was attended by twenty-seven votors all told, including two newspaper reporters, and three or four other persons not strongly allied with the movement.

—Superintendent Ward, with a force of workmen, commenced the repairing of the Milwaukee street bridge this morning. Mr. Ward says if the lumber holds out the bridge will be ready for the public in two week, which, we should judge by the way timbers have been put in place to-day, would be ample time. The bridge will be a trifle wider than the old structure.

—Mr. John Slighham has purchased a handsome iron-grey horse for the east side engine, to take the place of one needing a little rest. The new horse was raised by Mr. Robert Lillburn, of Emerald Grove, weighs 1,435 pounds, and is coming five years old. The purchase price was two hundred and twenty-five dollars. But few fire departments in the country can show up better teams than Janesville.

—A good story is told at the expense of an ex alderman of the fifth ward. Late the other evening he was on his way home, passing under one of the electric lights on West Milwaukee, where was also a horse and buggy standing by the hitching post, "Jim" thought he saw a whip in the gutter. Down in the gutter he went for the whip, and when he tried to pick up the shaddow, he turned around and asked the boys into the nearest cigar store. He says it wasn't "All fool's day," but nevertheless the shaddow fooled him, The whip was in the holder on the dashboard of the buggy, throwing a perfect shaddow to the gutter.

—More than fifty of the friends and members of the Mission circle of Court Street church gathered in the pleasant parlors of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, North High street, yesterday afternoon, to listen to Rev. L. N. Wheeler's entertaining narration of the "Founding of a Mission" at Chung King, West China. Mr. Wheeler's remarks were replete with interest and instruction and will live long in the memories of those who heard them. An appetizing supper was served at six o'clock and genuine social enjoyment reigned supreme for the hour.

—The funeral of the late Miss Emily M. Fifield took place at three o'clock this afternoon, from her late home on Washington street, first ward, Rev. A. J. Van Wagner, pastor of the Congregational church, conducting the solemn services which were attended by a very large congregation of sympathizing friends. The song service was rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. C. E. Church, Mrs. A. P. Prichard, Messrs. C. E. Church and Homer Rice, with Miss Clara L. Church, accompanist. The floral offerings of the intimate friends of the deceased were quite numerous and very beautiful. The remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pall bearers being Messrs. Herbert Cunningham, Will Jackson, Joseph Glass, Frank Farnsworth, Frank Baselton and Frank Bobrendt.

—Mr. W. F. Beckett made a speech last evening at the mass meeting of the prohibitionists, which created quite a sensation. He made some very loud statements, which he said had transpired under his own observation. It is not necessary for us to publish even a synopsis of his remarks, but if Mr. Beckett is possessed of the facts as stated by him last evening, he, as a law abiding citizen, one who is laboring for the suppression of the liquor traffic, should lose no time in giving his information to Mayor Richardson, who is pledged to a rigid enforcement of the law. It is for the want of just such evidence possessed by Mr. Beckett that so many guilty parties escape Come right up to the front, Mr. Beckett, fall in line with the mayor and city marshal, and aid them, (by appearing as a witness,) to enforce the law, and effectually stop the disgraceful scenes of which you complain. With the evidence you possess, our officers will rid the city of the "nuisance" in twenty-four hours, or fill the jail to overflowing.

Thousands Say So.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by F. Sherer & Co.

April Weather.

Mansill's Almanac publishes the following weather predictions for the month of April:

"Earth disturbing positions of the planets for April, 1885.—Mercury in a longitudinal line with Jupiter, 11th, and in a similar line with Uranus, 17th; Venus in a like line with Mars, 4th; Mercury in inferior conjunction with the sun, 27th, and in descending node, 30th.

The principal planetary disturbing positions for April are located about the 4th to 6th, the 11th to 18th, the 23d, and from the 27th to 30th.

The worst storms and earth disturbing days should occur about the 4th to 6th—Saturday to Monday.

11th to 18th—Saturday to Saturday.

23d —Thursday.

27th to 30th—Monday to Thursday.

REMARKS.— The temperature will probably average a little below the mean of the season during the first half of the month, and likely a little above the last half of the period. The worst storms will likely occur from about the 4th to 6th, and from the 15 to the 18th, and again from the 27th to the 30th.

The U. S. signal service will probably order hoisted the most justifiable cautionary marine storm signals for the following dates: 4th to 6th, most of the time from the 11th to 18th, and from 27th to 30th.

Her Atonement.

Monday evening, April 6th, Anson Pond's great military spectacular drama, Her Atonement, will be presented at the opera house for the first time. The Worcester Spy says the play possesses those elements which make it a popular success, the military features being made prominent, special attention being given to the stage settings, which are elaborate and meritorious throughout, and excellent music being furnished by a large and first class military band. Dramatically, there is more in it than is usually found in writings the express purpose of which is the introduction of special features. The most meritorious work in the mounting of the piece is in the reproduction of Cortland Street Ferry, Printing House square and City Hall Park, which are equal to the best scenic efforts attempted on the local stage. The court scene is also unusually well reproduced. The effective stage settings, the excellent military music, the departure of the troops and their return from the field, present realistic pictures of scenes of the war, and arouse the enthusiasm of the audience.

New Thousand Mile Tickets.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company has adopted, and on April 1st will commence to issue a new commercial travelers' ticket, which will be known as the rebate (1,000 miles), non-transferable, sold only to merchants and manufacturers (or their traveling representatives) who ordinarily ship goods by freight trains, at $25 each, with a rebate of $5, to be paid to the original purchaser when the empty covers have been returned to the general freight agent at Milwaukee. There are fifty coupons of one mile each on each page of the book, and the pages are so arranged that the whole distance, as represented by coupons, can and must be detached in one piece or slip. No detachment of less than five coupons will be made, and on each detachment the holder of the ticket will be required to sign his name in presence of the conductor in order that it may be compared with his signature on the cover of the mileage ticket. In addition to the above tickets the present system of commercial permits and commercial trip tickets will be continued for the benefit of such portion of the mercantile community as desire to use the system in preference to the mileage tickets.

Prentice & Evenson will refund the price paid if Acker's Blood Elixir does not relieve any skin or blood disorder A new, but thoroughly tested discovery

COLD WATER ADVOCATES.

They Assemble in Mass Meeting and Nominate a City Ticket.

Preparing to Fight It Out on the Prohibitory Line.

The prohibitionists of Janesville assembled in the council chamber last evening, pursuant to call of the committee, published in the city papers. The meeting was called to order by Hon. W. A. Lawrence, who read the call for the meeting. On motion, Hon. W. A. Lawrence was elected chairman, and W. R. Follensbee, secretary. Notwithstanding the fact that the meeting was a very small one in point of numbers, it was very harmonious, and went right at the business in hand, and on motion of Wm. Street, the meeting proceeded to an informal ballot for a candidate for mayor, Messrs. Wm. Street and H. W. Perrigo being appointed tellers: The result of the informal vote was:

James Harris	21
W. A. Lawrence	1
	21

On motion the informal ballot was made formal, and Mr. Harris was declared duly nominated for mayor.

An informal ballot was then taken for city clerk, which resulted as follows:

George C. Hield	10
William Street	7
W. R. Follansbee	2
Henry Sykes	1
John Gowdey	1
	21

Mr. Street withdrew his name in favor of Mr. Hield.

The result of the formal ballot was:

George C. Hield	19
	21

Mr. Hield was declared duly nominated for the office of city clerk.

On motion Hon. William A. Lawrence was nominated for the office of city treasurer by acclamation.

An informal ballot was then taken for school commissioner at large for two years as follows:

A. J. Ray	7

Rev. S. Lugg	1
Geo. C. Hield	1
Wm. Street	8
	20

FORMAL BALLOT.

Wm. Street	17
A. J. Ray	2
	20

Mr. Wm. Street was declared duly nominated for the office of school commissioner at large for two years.

Rev. G. W. Lawrence moved that the secretary cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. A. J. Ray for school commissioner at large for one year.

Mr. Ray declined to have his name used in connection with any office. He said he was hardly a resident of the city, he had not lived here quite twenty years. His time was not his own, and under no consideration would he accept any office that would require any of his time.

An informal ballot was then taken for school commissioner at large, for one year, as follows:

Noah Dutton	9
Rev. G. W. Lawrence	7
M. L. Richardson	2
H. W. Perrigo	1
J. Van Sicklen	1
	20

FORMAL BALLOT.

Noah Dutton	14
Rev. G. W. Lawrence	2
M. L. Richardson	4
M. DeGroat	1
J. Van Sicklen	1
	22

Mr. Noah Dutton was declared duly nominated for the office of school commissioner for the term of one year.

An informal ballot was taken for justice of the peace for two years, which resulted as follows:

W. R. Follansbee	15
	17

On motion the informal ballot was made formal, and Mr. Follansbee declared duly nominated for justice of the peace for two years.

On motion the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. W. F. Becket, for the office of sealer of weights and measures.

BECK WILL OBJECT.

KENTUCKY'S SENATOR WILL FIGHT PEARSON'S CONFIRMATION.

Republican Senators Satisfied with Cleveland's "Good Work"—Adjournment Programme—Another Pension Circular—The Public Debt.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—Shortly after the adjournment of the senate Wednesday afternoon, members of the majority lingered in the chamber but a short time. Before 2 o'clock they had nearly all assembled in the room of the judiciary committee—Edmunds, chairman. The doorkeeper, according to instructions, remained at his post, but an additional guard was summoned who, under direction, placed himself at the entrance of the corridor leading to the committee-room, permitting no one to enter that part of the building. To insure still greater privacy, the conductor of the elevator was directed not to run his car to the lower floor, where the judiciary room is situated; or, if he did so, not to allow any one excepting United States senators to leave the car on that landing. It was in this manner that the subject of confirmations was again discussed with a view of reaching some definite plan of action to be followed upon the nominations of the president now pending, and those expected in the near future. The views expressed did not differ materially from those of former conferences. A majority of those who were present appear to be quite well satisfied with the nominations made thus far, and do not intimate any desire to antagonize the executive in what they term his "good work." The point has been made that should the senate reject any of the nominations now pending, the country would be sure to uphold the president, and take the ground that he was doing well enough until the senate declared war upon him.

As yet no nomination covered by the tenure of office act has been made, and it can be authoritatively stated that the president does not contemplate making removals from offices which have fixed times. Republican senators, should this be done, would as a result of their conferences, feel obliged to resist confirmation, unless it could be shown that the incumbent was removed for cause.

Dark clouds appear to be gathering around the nomination of Henry G. Pearson, to be postmaster at New York. Senator Beck is booked to oppose his confirmation, and his friends claim that he has quite a formidable following. The senior senator from the Blue Grass region evidently means business, as he says he will vote against Pearson if it is the last vote he has. The opposition, however, while it may cause delay, cannot defeat Pearson's confirmation.

On account of this expected outbreak in the Democratic ranks, Republican senators are disposed to be very conservative in the matter of confirming nominations, and beyond resisting the displacement of good officers with fixed terms, it is not thought that they will in any way delay prompt action on nominations. It is possible there may be some little discussion and opposition from the majority on the nomination of John T. McGraw to be internal revenue collector in West Virginia, some members of the majority entertaining the opinion that Samuel P. McCormick, who has been in office but a short time, should not be disturbed. There does not at this time appear, however, to be sufficient strength to defeat McGraw.

The senate committee on railroads has agreed to report favorably the nomination of Gen. Joseph E. Johnson, to be commissioner of railroads. The senate committee on postoffices and post-roads has agreed to report to the senate with a favorable recommendation the nomination of Henry G. Pearson to be postmaster at New York.

An understanding has been reached by Republican senators to continue in session Thursday until all the pending nominations are laid before the senate. It is also the understanding that should Gen. Grant die before noon Thursday, the senate will adjourn out of respect to his memory, and proceed to carry out the above programme on Friday.

With Reference to Pensions.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—Commissioner Black has issued the following circular:

To PENSION AGENTS: Investigations now in progress show that in some instances very gross frauds have been perpetrated upon the government through the instrumentality of clerks employed in pension agencies. You must exercise the greatest care in regard to the selection of your subordinates. The government, it is true, may be reimbursed from your bond for such losses as are above referred to, but this not prevent the resulting scandal to the service. This message of earnest caution is sent you to call your attention particularly to your own risk and duty in the premises. Investigate your agencies thoroughly. Take all possible precaution to cleanse the service of every suspicious or unworthy person.

"JOHN C. BLACK."

Report on the New York Barge Office.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—The report of the commission appointed by the secretary of the treasury to investigate the management and report upon the efficiency of the New York barge office has been submitted. The surveyor, in his report, commends the barge office as well managed and successful, and a great improvement upon the previous system. Collector Robertson also reports favorably upon the barge office, but recommends the discontinuance of the exclusive privilege now granted one express company to solicit the transportation of passengers and baggage from the barge office. He recommends that three responsible express companies, and all the bonded common carriers be accorded the same privileges. He also recommends legislation compelling steamships to land passengers at the barge office.

Nominated and Confirmed.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate Wednesday: A. Lee Knott, of Maryland, to be second assistant postmaster general. To be postmasters—Adelbert Shepperd, at Waverly, Iowa; Bayard S. Gray, at Portland, Ind; Charles E. Cook, at McPherson, Kan.; G. Marion Moore, Pleasanton, Kan.

The senate in executive session confirmed the following nominations: To be postmasters—Michael J. Dougherty, at Galesburg, Ills.; Ansel Watrous, at Fort Collins, Colo.; Palemon Wiley, at Central City, Colo.; Wilbur F. Horn, at Idaho Springs, Colo.

The Senate Session.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—In the senate Wednesday, on motion of Sherman, the chair was authorized to appoint the committee provided for by the Allison resolution adopted Tuesday to sit during the recess and take into consideration the contingent expenses of the senate. The following senators are named: Allison, Platt, Plumb, Miller of New York, Cockrell, Harrison and Payne. Upon motion of Miller of New York the senate at 12:10 went into executive session.

No Special Cases in the Land Office.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—General Land Commissioner Sparks has issued an order directing that in the future no cases be made special in the land office, but that all cases be taken up in the order of their filing. Where his predecessor, Commissioner McFarland, made certain cases special, he has revoked the orders, and remanded them to the files to take their regular order.

The Public Debt.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 2.—The decrease in the public debt for March was $483,000. Secretary Manning has changed the form of the treasurer's monthly statement. By the old method of tabulation the surplus in the vault is $153,000,000; by the new form it appears as $81,500,000. The sum of $100,000,000 has been reserved for the redemption of greenbacks, and small change to the amount of $31,500,000 is stated by itself. In the new form of debt statement the Pacific railroad bonds are added to the bonded indebtedness. Within three months the treasury has lost $16,000,000 in gold and gained $7,000,000 in silver.
